DETAILED ACTION

This final office action is in response to the paper filed on 07/11/2006.

Amendments to the claims submitted on 07/11/2006 are acknowledged.

Claims 3 and 16-22 directed to Cry31Aa2 and fragments and variants thereof only are pending and currently under examination.

Claims 1, 2, and 4-15 and any claims directed to Cry31Aa1 are withdrawn from consideration as directed to non-elected subject matter.

This application claims priority to 60/448,883 filed on 02/24/2003.

All Objections and Rejections not present in this office action are withdrawn

Rejections and Objections Necessitated by Amendments

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 refers to "activated Cry" peptide. This phrase is indefinite because it is not clear how this Cry polypeptide activated. The specification states that the polypeptide at issue is "trypsin activated" thus appropriate amendments should be provided.

Art Unit: 1653

Claim 3 states that activated Cry polypeptide is "exhibiting" cytotoxic activity against human cancer cells. The claim is indefinite since it should state distinctly that the polypeptide has or has not cytotoxic activity against human cancer cells and not just "exhibiting" the activity.

Further, in claim 3 the specific Cry polypeptide should be properly labeled, such as SEQ ID NO:8 as the Cry31Aa2 and SEQ ID NO:18 as the Cry31Aa1 polypeptide.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 3 and 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The MPEP states that the purpose of the written description requirement is to ensure that the inventor had possession, at the time the invention was made, of the specific subject matter claimed. The courts have stated: "To fulfill the written description requirement, a patent specification must describe an invention and do so in sufficient detail that one skilled in the art can clearly conclude that 'the inventor invented the claimed invention.' Lockwood v. American Airlines, Inc., 107 F.3d 1565, 1572, 41 USPQ2d 1961, 1966 (Fed. Cir. 1997); In re Gostelli, 872 F.2d 1008, 1012, 10 USPQ2d 1614, 1618 (Fed. Cir. 1989) ('[T]he description must clearly allow persons of ordinary skill in the art to recognize that [the inventor] invented what is claimed.'). Thus, an applicant complies with the written description requirement "by describing the invention, with all its claimed limitations, not that which makes it obvious," and by using "such descriptive means as words, structures, figures, diagrams, formulas, etc., that set forth the claimed invention." Lockwood, 107 F.3d at 1572, 41 USPQ2d at 1966." Regents of the University of California v. Eli Lilly & Co., 43 USPQ2d 1398.

Further, for a broad generic claim, the specification must provide adequate written description to identify the genus of the claim. In Regents of the University of California v. Eli Lilly & Co. the court stated:

"A written description of an invention involving a chemical genus, like a description of a chemical species, 'requires a precise definition, such as by structure, formula, [or] chemical name,' of the claimed subject matter sufficient to distinguish it from other materials." Fiers, 984 F.2d at 1171, 25 USPQ2d 1601; In re Smythe, 480 F.2d 1376, 1383, 178 USPQ 279, 284985 (CCPA 1973) ("In other cases, particularly but not necessarily, chemical cases, where there is unpredictability in performance of certain species or subcombinations other than those specifically enumerated, one skilled in the art may be found not to have been placed in possession of a genus ...") Regents of the University of California v. Eli Lilly & Co., 43 USPQ2d 1398.

In claim 3, Applicants refer to "activated Cry polypeptide." First, the specification only discusses "trypsin-activated" Cry polypeptide, and second, the Cry polypeptide should have been specified in the claim since, for example, in Table 2 on page 32 of the specification Applicants refer only to Cry31Aa2 and Cry31Aa1 polypeptide and not other possible Cry polypeptides. Therefore, the written description requirement is not satisfied in reference to all possibly "activated Cry" polypeptides, and the written description requirement is not satisfied to all Cry polypeptides, but only to Cry31Aa2 and Cry31Aa1.

Further, claim 3 refers to all "human cancer cells" where the specification, see Table 2, page 32 provides only support to human: uterus, blood, lung, liver, and colon cancer. Thus, the written description is not satisfied for all possible human cancers, but to cancers listed in Table 2 on page 32 of the specification.

Art Unit: 1653

Claims 16-22 are included in this rejection because they depend from rejected independent claim 3 and do not cure the deficiency of the independent claim 3.

Conclusion

No claims are allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
